CHURCH MUM HAD KINKY SEX ROMPS WITH TEEN

By MILES PLATTING

A 32-YEAR-OLD youth worker will AVOID prison time after she admitted to romping with a teenage boy – even going so far as performing a sex act on him in a CHURCH.

A judge ordered Carol Maureen Geiger Russell to serve a suspended sentence of 15 years after she pleaded guilty to three counts of sexual indecency.

Gove blasts Keir election 'downgrade'

CABINET minister Michael Gove accused Sir Keir Starmer of planning to "downgrade the ultimate privilege of British citizenship" by giving EU nationals in the UK the right to vote in a general election.

The Labour leader has suggested people who've spent decades living in the UK ought to be able to vote in elections to decide who runs the country.

But Levelling Up Secretary Mr Gove (above) wrote to the Labour leader saying it had been the "settled constitutional position for many decades" that the right to vote in a general election was limited to British, Irish and qualifying Commonwealth folk.

He also hit out at the prospect of Labour lowering the voting age to 16, arguing "adulthood begins at 18".

Jobless rate up, vacancies down

BRITAIN'S unemployment rate has risen again unexpectedly while vacancies have fallen to the lowest level for 18 months as economic uncertainty weighs on the UK's jobs market.

The rate of unemployment rose to 3.9% in the three months to March, up from 3.8% in the previous quarter and the highest level since the three months to January 2022, the Office for National Statistics said.

Most economists had expected the rate to remain unchanged at 3.8%.

The number of vacancies fell by 55,000 quarter on quarter to 1.08m in the three months to April – the 10th fall in a row.

TRUMP PAL MADE ME SUCK HIM OFF

RUDY Giuliani made his former business consultant perform oral sex on him while he was on speaker phone to Donald Trump, because it made him feel like Bill Clinton, court papers claim.

Giuliani (above), the former mayor of New York who was Trump's lawyer, is being sued for sexual harassment by former employee Noelle Dunphy.

The £8m civil case claims he coerced her into sex acts, making her work naked, and launched into racist and "alcohol-drenched" rants at work.

It claims he frequently exposed himself, took Viagra "constantly" and told Ms Dunphy satisfying his sexual demands was a job requirement.

Mr Giuliani has "vehemently" denied the allegations through a spokesperson.

Ms Dunphy, who says

she was hired by Mr Giuliani's firm in 2019 when he was working as Mr Trump's personal lawyer, filed the legal case in New York state on Monday.

The lawsuit, which sets out her allegations in graphic detail, says Mr Giuliani began to abuse her almost immediately after being hired and made it clear that satisfying his sexual demands was an "absolute requirement of her employment".

The lawsuit says the former New York City mayor coerced Ms Dunphy (right) into giving him oral sex "against her will" at his flat.

It claims Mr Giuliani "often demanded that she work naked, in a bikini, or in short shorts with an American flag on them that he bought for her" and would visibly touch himself while on video conference calls.

Ms Dunphy's case

alleges he frequently took erectile dysfunction drug Viagra and exposed himself to her.

Ms Dunphy is also suing for a $1m wage theft.

'Great value' gives Greggs a tasty profit

GREGGS says its sales have gone up nearly a fifth compared to this time in 2022, and that its food remains "compelling" to customers in the cost-of-living crisis.

The bakery chain, which opened its first shop in Newcastle in 1951, opened 63 new shops this year and extended some opening hours.

The company said hot food like chicken goujons, wedges and pizza were popular, adding total sales were up 17% on 2022.

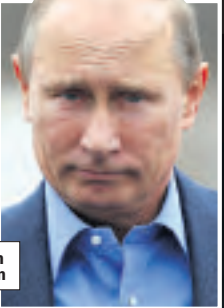

But it said inflation and pressures on incomes remained challenging, but that it was confident its "outstanding value proposition continues to be compelling".

In the past year, Greggs has opened the new shops but closed 25 franchises, leaving it now with more than 2,360 outlets.

The rise in 2023 was partly because the beginning of last year was impacted by the Omicron variant of coronavirus.

The fast food bakery announced in March plans to open 150 shops and extend opening hours.

BLITZ ON KYIV

ATTACK: Russian leader Vlad Putin

Putin bombards Ukraine capital after UK offers more weapons

THE Ukrainian capital Kyiv has been targeted by further Russian air attacks, described as being "exceptional in density".

Moscow has stepped up its air campaign in recent weeks, ahead of an expected Ukrainian offensive.

The air raid alert sounded at around 2am and was lifted two hours later in the eighth attack to hit the capital this month.

An unusually high number of loud explosions was heard in the city centre, as authorities told residents in online messages that air defence had been activated.

The head of Ukraine's armed forces, Valerii Zaluzhnyi, said Russia attacked Kyiv from the north, south and east and that 18 air, sea and land-based missiles had been used.

Serhiy Popko, head of the Ukrainian capital's military administration, also described the barrage as being the "maximum number of attack missiles in the shortest period of time".

"According to preliminary information, the vast majority of enemy targets in the airspace of Kyiv were detected and destroyed," he added.

Residents yesterday were warned to keep away from windows as debris from intercepted missiles fell from the sky.

Mayor Vitali Klitschko said rocket debris had fallen in central districts, including on the city's zoo.

By COLIN HURST

No animals or workers were injured.

The Solomiansky district, which includes the international airport, is reported to have been the hardest hit.

Russia's resumption of strikes on Kyiv earlier this month came after a lull of more than 50 days.

The Ukrainian authorities believe Moscow's strategy is to exhaust the air defence systems, which have been extremely successful in intercepting most of the missiles and drones fired.

Allies

In the past few days, President Volodymyr Zelensky has been on a European tour, in which he has been promised several billion dollars' worth of military equipment by Western allies, including UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak and President Emmanuel Macron of France.

Since Russia invaded Ukraine, thousands of civilians and combatants have been killed or injured, cities and towns have been destroyed in fighting, and nearly 8.2 million Ukrainians have been registered as refugees in Europe, with 2.8 million of them in Russia.

Vodafone to axe 11k jobs

VODAFONE is set to axe 11,000 jobs over the next three years as the new chief executive sets out her plans to "simplify" the telecoms giant.

The cuts equal more than one tenth of its workforce and will affect its UK headquarters and other countries.

Margherita Della Valle, who is also Vodafone's finance director, said its "performance has not been good enough".

Vodafone has two headquarters in the UK, its head office in Reading and a group office in London's Paddington.

The firm has already outlined plans to cut jobs in Germany and Italy.

Ms Della Valle said: "My priorities are customers, simplicity and growth. We will simplify our organisation."

TESCO CUT MORE FOOD PRICES

TESCO has announced another round of price cuts on its own-brand pasta and cooking oil as it sees deflation making its way through to cupboard essentials.

The UK's biggest supermarket chain is dropping the price of 30 products, with 15p off 500g and 1kg packs of own-brand pasta, 14p off its one litre vegetable oil and 15p off its one litre sunflower oil.

It follows a number of supermarkets dropping the price of some lines of bread and butter last week in response to falling commodity prices.

Sainsbury's and Tesco also recently cut the price of milk by at least 5p, followed by Aldi, Lidl and Asda.

The cuts come as grocery inflation leapt by more than 19% in March compared with a year ago, as energy and supply chain costs were passed on to shoppers.

Tesco announced its latest price cuts as Downing Street hosted a "Farm to Fork Summit", bringing together farmers' representatives and food and retail trade bodies along with supermarket chiefs to talk about the Government's goal of boosting co-operation across the supply chain – and tackling rampant food inflation.

THE UK was HUMILIATED in Liverpool on Saturday night.

Our Eurovision Song Contest entrant, Mae Muller, came second to LAST, with her ditty I Wrote a Song.

Which must have been a joy for the strident left-winger who previously commented that she HATES her home country and has campaigned for bearded left-winger Jeremy Corbyn.

But from the wreckage of Eurovision arose a megastar – sexy host Hannah Waddingham.

Hannah Waddingham. The 48-year-old Ted Lasso star, who helped present the final, won plaudits from all sides and restored a little bit of national pride.

But some people went too far in their praise of the London-born actress — and descended into FILTH!

One Twitter user said he was “absolutely yanking the end off it” while another leered that Hannah had a “great pair of tits”.

Yet another said she “absolutely reeks of sex” and yet another said she looks like “absolute filth”

Last night a friend of Hannah's said: "She is a dedicated and very experienced actress who did a superb job hosting Eurovision on Saturday."

"So for some people to speculate what she is like in the throes of passion is unseemly and rather sexist."

Teen saves sis with catapult

A TEENAGE boy used a CATAPULT to save his eight-year-old sister from a would-be kidnapper.

The young girl was hunting for mushrooms in her backyard in Alpena Township, Michigan, when a 17-year-old lad appeared out of the woods and tried to take her away.

The young girl's older brother, 13, realised the creep was trying to take his sister and used his catapult – made famous by Dennis the Menace – to pelt the would-be perv with stones, forcing him to run off.

Cops later caught the 17-year-old suspect and charged him with attempted kidnap.

HOLLY Willoughby says that she's looking forward to a future with "endless possibility" amid an ongoing feud with her This Morning co-host Phillip Schofield – as insiders warned his job is at risk if viewers don't buy their on-screen friendship.

Priest barcodes get green light

CATHOLIC priests will be fitted with BARCODES which parishioners can scan to find out if they touch kids.

Cards carried by priests in France will feature a QR code, scannable by mobile phones, that will flag a red, orange or green light depending on whether its holder had been stripped of their clerical status.

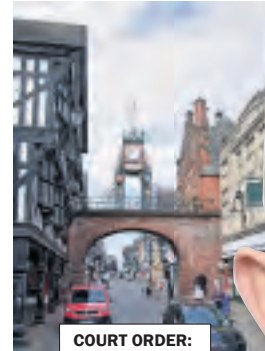

The scheme, announced by the Bishop's Conference of France, will allow easier identification of priests able to lead mass and hear confessions.

But it also aims at protecting worshippers from any sexual abuse, an issue made more pressing by revelations in November that 11 former or serving French bishops had been accused of abuse or had failed to report cases.

Members of the public will see either a red light, an amber light or a green light upon scanning one of the new cards and the database will be updated as standard once a year, or immediately in cases of serious misconduct.

Creep harassed women in city centre

BANNED FROM ASKING FOR SEX

COURT ORDER:
Jacob Allerson
(above) Chester

A PERV who harassed young women has been banned from asking for sex anywhere in England and Wales.

Jacob Allerson, 34, was handed a five-year Criminal Behaviour Order at Chester Magistrates' Court.

Police said Allerson, of Chester, has also been banned from gyms, cafes and shops in Chester as he "would not take 'no' for an answer" and "made inappropriate comments of a sexual nature towards young women" in the city.

Complaints included Allerson following "young female staff" at locations across the city.

If Allerson breaches the order he will find himself back before the courts and face the prospect of time behind bars, police said.

Banned

Under the order, he must immediately cease all contact and/or communication with any female in England and Wales who has declined his offer to go out or meet up with him.

He has also been banned from all Brio Leisure sites in Cheshire West and Chester, the Storyhouse theatre complex, Fatface Chester, and three city centre Caffé Nero sites at Eastgate Street, Bridge Street and Foregate Street.

The order states he is prevented from following or acting in a way that would cause a female harassment, alarm or distress which includes making any unsolicited explicit sexual comment, suggestions or requests to any female in a public place in England or Wales.

He must not enter any premises in England and Wales where he has been verbally or in writing informed that he has been barred or excluded from, and not remain in or on any premises in England and Wales when asked to leave by any member of staff or security.

Inspector James Wilson said: "Police received complaints from members of the public and businesses that their young female staff were being followed."

"Allerson would not take 'no' for an answer when he asked them out and made inappropriate comments of a sexual nature towards young women in Chester."

Intimidating

"He continued to be a nuisance and was intimidating women who should have been able to go about their business without fear of harassment."

"Our priority is to protect women and make Chester a safe and enjoyable place for everyone to live, work and visit, which is why we have had to apply for this order."

"I hope this order will help to make women feel much safer and if anyone sees Allerson breaching this order, please contact the police."

Bondage fan left in woods

A MAN was found tied up in the woods after a sex game went wrong.

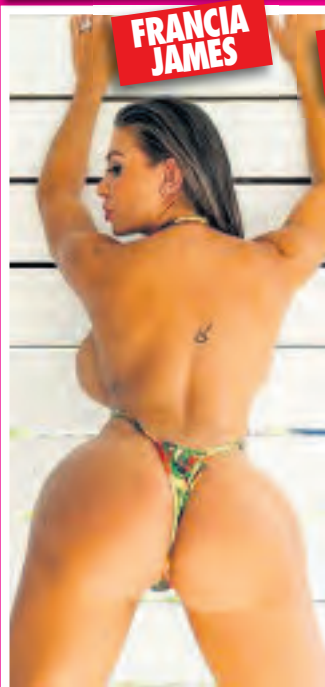

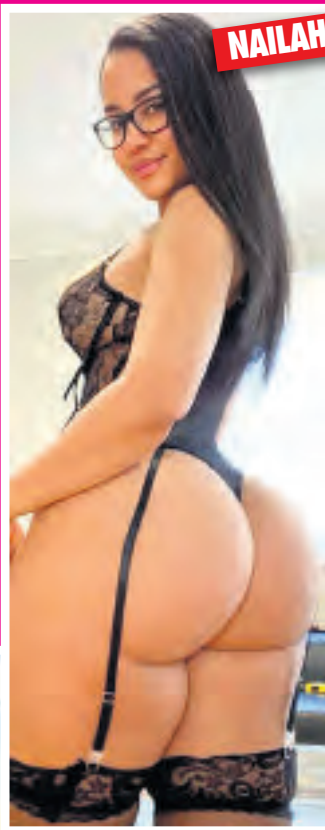

The unnamed fella, 51, was found bound with ropes and a pantyhose over his head on top of a deer-hunting platform in woods near the town of Bueckburg in Lower Saxony, Germany.

He appeared to have gone into the woods with a woman he met online, who tied him up and then suddenly left when she received a phone call, police said.

He was rescued after a cyclist and a hunter heard his cries for help.

The man told police he had a box cutter on him "for such situations" but had underestimated the woman's "bondage skills" and was tied up so well he could not reach it.

He was rescued from the woods unharmed but has so far refused to provide any information about the mystery woman's identity.

A HUSBAND has been charged with two counts of murder for killing his wife and her girlfriend in the posh home where they all lived together as a kinky "throuple".

Satnam Sumal, 55, is accused of shooting dead Satbinder Singh, 39, who he was in an open relationship with.

Her lover, Nadjiba Belaidi, 37, was also found dead at the home in Tracy, California.

Sumal walked into the Tracy Police Department and surrendered himself to cops, before confessing to the so-called "love triangle" killings.

He has been charged with two counts of murder and was booked in San Joaquin County Jail without bail. He is expected to appear in court on May 31.

Sumal is said to have shot both victims with a .40-calibre handgun at the property.

The love triangle killing has shocked locals in the upscale California town.

One neighbour, Karuppih Karuppih, said: "It is really scary, and very unfortunate in this community that this happened... I feel very bad about it."

A relative, believed to be the brother of Nadjiba Belaidi wrote online: "My sister passed away last night, only God knows her value on my heart, my love for her, her destiny in mind and reality."

"She was a very good woman with an irreplaceable heart... a good adviser."

Death crash drink driver was naked

A WOMAN who caused a crash that killed a mum and injured her son was found lying naked at the roadside.

Constellatia Martin, 24, pleaded not guilty to causing death by drink driving and causing injury by drunk driving after the smash.

The crash was reported on April 22 on southbound I-280 motorway near Woodside in California.

Prosecutors said Martin was driving the wrong way on the road and collided head-on with a BMW, killing 54-year-old San Francisco resident Eden Palmer and injuring her 14-year-old son.

Martin is accused of fleeing the scene.

Because we're celebrating National Piercings Day!

This remarkable event is done to promote, as you may imagine, piercings.

Piercing the lobe of the ear is thought to be the oldest form of body piercing.

However, it is by no means the only form of ancient body piercing art.

Not only is it considered an artistic expression but in many cultures, piercing holds great meaning in religious ceremonies.

Today, there are few places that someone will not shove a bodkin through.

But we'll just settle with a few nice photos of ladies who have pierced nipples.

School in panic over furry kids

SCHOOL bosses are set to ban "furry" clothing accessories, including animal tails and ears, in the hope of halting a growing trend of students barking, grunting and meowing at each other in class.

A tense Brevard County School Board meeting in Florida turned feral after members raised concerns over kids donning the animal accoutrements and identifying as their chosen critter.

"I can't believe I have to say this out loud," said board member Megan Wright before introducing the unusual agenda item.

Wright told the board that some students said they were being bullied for their adherence to the "furry" movement, and asked the board to formally allow the items.

Board member Matt Susin said his daughter told him the trend was taking a hold in primary schools.

YOUTH GROUP GIRL

SICKO:
Russell had sex with a young lad

SUCKED OFF TEEN IN CHURCH

A 32-YEAR-OLD volunteer at an education programme will AVOID prison time after she admitted to having an unlawful sexual relationship with a 14-year-old boy – even going so far as to suck off the lad in a CHURCH.

Judge Rodney Sparkman gave Carol Maureen Geiger Russell a suspended sentence of 15 years after she pleaded guilty to one count of lewd molestation, lewd or indecent proposal to a child, and indecent exposure to a child.

Russell was required to register as a sex offender, pay in fines and other costs, and was ordered to have no contact with the victim in the future.

The probe into Russell began when the victim's mother went through his mobile phone and found explicit sexual messages between Russell.

The mother took screenshots of the messages and then contacted the Tulsa, Oklahoma Police Department.

Russell initially told police that she had no relationship whatsoever with the victim, but she reportedly called

By MILES PLATTING
news@sundaysport.co.uk

back a short while later to provide a revised statement.

Russell confessed to performing "certain sexual acts" with the victim.

However, she said that the victim was the one who first brought up a sexual relationship and she rejected him but he later forced her to perform sex acts.

But the evidence and the testimony of the victim belied Russell's claims.

The victim reportedly told police that it was Russell who came onto him and made the victim finger her fanny.

Graphic

On at least one occasion, the victim said Russell performed a sexual act on him while they were inside the church in which Russell was volunteering.

Messages between the two also showed Russell explicitly speaking to the victim about having sex with him in graphic terms.

"Idk what the heck you did to me," she reportedly wrote in one of the less-graphic messages. "I usually don't go for younger."

Drink drive fugitive's Facebook surrender

A WANTED woman with seven drink drive arrests ended up in police custody after she commented on a Facebook news post appealing for help finding the fugitive.

Marion Reyes, 36, of Las Vegas, surrendered to the traffic bureau just a day after authorities sent out an alert claiming she cut off her ankle monitor.

"I never cut it off! An officer cut it off when I turned myself in. They continued to release me," Reyes commented under a news story about her case posted online.

The Las Vegas Traffic Bureau responded with its own comment: "Then why not turn yourself in? Let's get this sorted out."

Reyes seemingly heeded the advice before turning herself in the following day, police said.

A judge ordered Reyes to spend two days in jail after she had missed a court date.

JAIL NURSE DRAWN TO INMATE'S LOVELY COCK

A PRISON nurse charged with sucking off an inmate during routine health checks said she did it because the con had "a really lovely cock".

Jean Rodriguez, 32, worked at the Cumberland County Detention Centre in Fayetteville, North Carolina, as a licenced practical nurse.

She appeared in court and requested unsecured bail in the case after being accused of kissing and having oral sex with an inmate.

Prosecutors said the encounters happened multiple times between January and April.

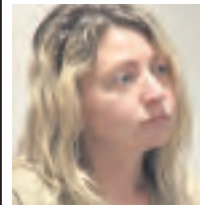

The investigation started in April, after another employee of Southern Health Partners, the firm that contracts nurses for Cumberland County Detention Centre, reported concerns of inappropriate behaviour by Rodriguez.

When she was arrested, Rodriguez (below) could give no explanation for her behaviour apart from the inmate having a "really lovely cock".

The Hope Mills woman is charged with five counts of sexual acts by a custodian, each of which carries a maximum of 88 months behind bars.

She told the court: "My father is really sick. He has pancreatic cancer and that's where I was going when they picked me up."

She's due back in court on May 31.

School nurse admits oral with pupil, 16

A SCHOOL nurse has been arrested after she sucked off a 16-year-old lad.

Erin Foerstel (above) was charged with one count of second-degree statutory sodomy and one of sexual contact with a student.

Charging documents say Foerstel performed oral sex on a student under the age of 17 at St John Vianney High School in Kirkwood, Missouri, earlier this year. The documents also say Foerstel made a full confession.

Bail

As part of her bail, she can not go on the Vianney campus or have any communication with the victim through third parties or social media.

In April, the school sent a letter to parents saying Forestel had been removed from the campus and is "no longer employed as the school nurse and assistant to the athletic department".

"My son's 12, he and his friends will be Googling, pictures will come up – but I still 100% stand by that, as a complete feminist move."

She doesn't care what people have to say about it, and will always stand by her decision to strip down to her birthday suit for the pictures.

"My body, my choice, my space. I controlled everything about the photos," she said.

But Danni is not the only top flight babe to have posed in the iconic magazine.

I HAVE a huge thing for the personal trainer fantasy.

I imagine I have loads of sexual chemistry with him, and we've been flirting for weeks.

Then one day in the gym, we are working out and things intensify.

I notice him looking at my curves in my cute, figure-hugging leggings and crop top outfit. He keeps paying me compliments about my 'progress'.

He's ripped and I can't stop staring at his biceps and his tight arse.

Then, for the first time, we find ourselves alone in the gym. He demands I give him 30 squats. He gets up close behind me to show me the right technique, grazing my bum each time he goes up and down.

I suddenly feel majorly horny. I need this guy inside me now. I "accidentally" step back in to him and apologise. But I linger and our bodies are touching.

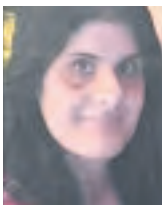

He gets the hint and begins kissing my neck. There's no time to waste while we have the place to ourselves, so I rub his groin.

He spins me round and frees my boobs from my top and sucks them. After giving each other oral right there on the weights bench, he bends me over and does me doggy style, as we both watch ourselves going at it in the mirror.

Anyone could catch us, any minute! It makes us fast and furious and we both come quickly!

Miss who had pupil sex will be free in year

A TEACHER who had sex with a 14-year-old student could be free from jail within a year. Azar Rahmatzadeh (above) began talking to the male pupil on Snapchat over the summer holidays.

She enjoyed the boy's attention and invited him to her house for a drink, a court in Melbourne, Australia, heard.

After picking him up from the railway station in her car, she told him to keep a low profile and hide as they drove to her home.

She allowed the boy to help himself to booze once they arrived.

Rahmatzadeh then sat on his lap, kissed him and had sex with the boy in her bedroom.

His dad later picked him up and took him to his mother's home, where he cried.

When quizzed by police, Rahmatzadeh blamed the boy, but later pleaded guilty to sexual penetration of a child under 16.

Rahmatzadeh was jailed for 30 months and will be eligible for parole after one year.

Fact me!

THERE are enough nuclear shelters in Switzerland to house its entire population.

Cow's that for police work?

COPS made an arrest with the help of a herd of cows who were happy to reveal a suspect hiding in their pasture.

The Town of Boone Police Department in North Carolina said Joshua Minton, 34 (above), fled from officers during a traffic stop and led them and Watauga County Sheriff's Office deputies on a pursuit.

He abandoned his vehicle a short while after and ran into an undeveloped area.

Because of his "fast and reckless driving" officers were not close enough to see where he had gone.

A police statement revealed: "Cows assisted our officers by leading them directly to where the suspect was hiding."

Minton has been charged with fleeing and eluding arrest with a motor vehicle, driving with a licence revoked, and disorderly conduct.

STALKER 'HID IN PORN STAR'S LOFT'

ON TRIAL: Mauricio Guerrero

A MAN accused of hiding in an OnlyFans star's attic told a judge the woman wanted that kind of attention.

Mauricio Guerrero, 19, took to the stand during his trial at Stafford County Superior Court in Dover, New Hampshire.

Prosecutors accuse him of sneaking into the home of a 24-year-old woman he met on the website OnlyFans in 2021 and of taking pics of her while she slept.

But Guerrero testified he thought it was part of the dynamic of their relationship, saying that she wanted him to be "obsessed" and "a stalker" and that "she liked it".

The victim previously testified that she was often drunk when talking to Guerrero and doesn't remember much of their conversations.

Guerrero explained what he recalled from those conversations: "We talked about meeting up, about me coming up. Between that we talked about having intercourse."

She eventually gave him her personal mobile phone number and real address so he could send her things like money, a television set and a fireplace.

Prosecutors said Guerrero made six unwanted visits to New Hampshire, with the victim mostly refusing to see him.

But she did testify they met one time and had sex.

She also testified she kept communicating with him because she liked how it made her feel.

Crowbar

The defence said Guerrero believed that the two were in a relationship, based on their conversations, and asked him on the stand how he got into the house.

"It was the back door," he replied.

When asked how he did it, he responded: "I tried to use a crowbar."

Prosecutors say that Guerrero went from fan to fanatic, but his defence argued he did not know he was "just a client" after their relationship moved off the content-sharing website.

"He went from being attracted to infatuated to obsessed, to the point where he lost all ability to think reasonably to control his impulse," said assistant County Attorney Emily Garod.

In February 2022, prosecutors said that Guerrero went into her home with a list to make copies of keys, place microphones, track her car and take his stuff back.

He was there nearly 48 hours before the victim and her mother heard him, prosecutors said.

"Having a girl play with your emotions doesn't give you the right to break into her home," Ms Garod said.

Prosecutors added that police also found Guerrero on the roof of the house.

Guerrero has been charged with four counts of residential burglary.

He faces up to seven years behind bars on each count.

The trial continues.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Why do they give this ghoul air time?

AVOID AT ALL COSTS: Campbell

THERE is a madman out there.

A dangerous individual who is determined to absolutely destroy society as we know it.

He is not a leader of thought. Nor is he, definitively, a leader of men.

He seems to possess a snowflake's spine along with a questionable mind.

Both fed by an uncontrollable temperament that feeds a demonic attitude against anyone who disagrees with his endless ramblings.

He stalks the streets of our capital city like a swampish ghoul from smoky, black and white films, and installs his gloom into torrents of newspaper columns while trying to control the entire nation's television output.

Everyone who isn't him, or disagrees with him, or at least agrees to throw themselves into apologetic purgatory for not doing so, must die.

Perhaps – one hopes – he does not wish you necessarily a physical expiry, but he most certainly demands a public death.

Your disappearance from any kind of contribution to public debate and discussion.

He wants you double-tapped, bagged up, and carted off for good.

The political equivalence of stuffing a body into the back of an old Volvo before tumbling it off a cliff into a deserted quarry.

Probably while laughing in the mode of Christopher Lee or Vincent Price from one of the Hammer House of Horror films.

If this was Peter Sutcliffe, the late Yorkshire Ripper, or Charles Bronson, the perma-jailed convict, we'd grab the crisps and the popcorn and the chocolate and settle in for some tabloid telly.

To secretly enjoy a good old-fashioned televised meltdown of someone whose grey matter is visibly melting to cheese and leaking out of their unkempt ears.

To chuckle as their swivel eyes shriek further back inside their skulls and the relentless bellowing thunder within begins to erupt, exploding their every atom across a studio.

Instead, though, it doesn't happen.

Because it doesn't seem to matter how rude Alastair Campbell is, or how misguided, or how rude, or how incompetent, or how rude, or how bullying, or how rude, or how misogynistic, or how rude...

The BBC will always, ALWAYS, give the man airtime.

And the reason they ALWAYS give him airtime, is, simply, because he can't stand Brexit.

Now, Brexiteers like me don't like the Brexit we've got so far very much, either (and thanks for asking, nobody – who in the real world has ever actually been quizzed by a pollster?).

But that's mainly because it's been held up or deflected from or simply dismissed by people like... the BBC and Alastair Campbell and their Remain MP chums.

You can lob the awful C4 and Sky News into that argument, too.

Dreadful

Equally dreadful organisations that seek not to inform you, which is an enlightened part of the BBC's founding mission, but to control you, which is not.

If Alastair Campbell was a Tory MP – or, indeed, an MP of any party – he would have long ago been sanctioned by the Speaker of the House of Commons.

Or barred from standing in any general election.

And possibly have faced legal action for bullying, intimidation, or that small matter of spinning out a load of bollocks as a reason to invade a country that had precisely zero weapons of mass destruction.

Because he thought it would look good for his party's then leader, Tony Blair.

Because it helped crunch the numbers.

Because it helped his man stay in power.

Because it helped him stay in power, behind the scenes, like a lurking, curdling, plotting Nosferatu.

His name is Alastair Campbell.

And just like the Devil himself, you should avoid him at all costs.

HOLLYWOOD BIGSHOTS IN NEW MOVIE ABOUT ORGIES...THEY'RE SEX PEOPLE!*'Poisoner' wife had house party after hubby died

A WOMAN accused of killing her husband, before writing a book about grief, threw a huge party at her new £2million home the day after he died.

Kouri Richins, 33 (above), invited friends to the 10-acre property for drinks on March 4, 2022, just hours after she allegedly slipped her hubby, 39-year-old Eric Richins, a lethal dose of fentanyl.

The party toasted Richins for closing in on the 22,000ft² unfinished home in Heber City, Utah.

It was a property she dreamed of owning, but for which her husband refused to pay the hefty price tag.

The two had argued over the home in the weeks leading up to his death.

Though his body was found at 3 am on March 4 – a day after the poisoning – it wasn't clear if the party goers knew he was dead.

Prosecutors believe the mum-of-three poisoned Eric in an attempt to get money from his life insurance.

'Thugs Bunny' attacks locals

A RABBIT has been nicknamed "Thugs Bunny" over its reign of terror in a quiet neighbourhood.

The animal has been lurking around the streets of Perry, a suburb of Des Moines, Iowa, and aggressively attacking people.

Two locals reported being bitten by the vicious bunny, while another person captured a video of the rabbit quickly turning around and lunging at their feet.

Ramona Rustan said: "It jumped up and bit me. I was like, 'Oh, my gosh. I just got bit by a bunny!'"

The bunny then carried on its terror spree at her next-door neighbour's house, she said.

"It came around to her car and wouldn't let her out of her car," Ramona said. "When she did get out of her car, it chased her up to her door!"

Cops caught the animal and took it to the local wastewater treatment plant where it was then released.

A NEW movie about ORGIES is coming, with three of Hollywood's biggest stars attached.

Paul Rudd, Amy Adams, and Tessa Thompson have all joined the cast of The Invite instantly making it a must-watch film.

The Invite is based on a 2020 Goya Award-winning Spanish film titled Sentimental by Cesc Gay.

According to producers: "The film tells the story of Joe (Rudd) and Angela (Adams), who after 15 years of marriage, find their relationship is in a rut.

"Angela invites their boisterous neighbours, Kayla (Thompson) and Shane, over for cocktails.

"They discover Shane and Kayla are hosting weekly orgies and have an invite of their own to offer."

Rashida Jones is co-writing the script with Will McCormack to add to the excitement. Jonathan Dayton and Valeri Faris (Little Miss Sunshine) will direct the feature.

Paul Rudd was recently seen in Ant-Man & The Wasp: Quantumania – 2023's second highest-grossing film of the year globally.

Amy Adams had a busy 2021 with roles in Justice League, The Woman in the Window and Dear Evan Hansen. Her next role will come in Nightbitch.

Tessa Thompson is coming off a phenomenal performance in Passing. She also starred in Thor: Love and Thunder last year.

One happy film buff said: "Let's hope mega MILF Amy gets her pert busters out!"

'Small cock' serial flasher banged up

A PERVERT ran away with his pride "hurt" after the woman he flashed ridiculed him for having a penis smaller than those of her dogs.

Dana Mustapha has been locked up for a series of disturbing incidents, involving threats and public indecency.

The 34-year-old Iraqi national was charged with three counts of exposure.

He also faced counts of threatening behaviour, assault by beating, and two of harassment – one of which put the victim in fear of violence.

He pleaded not guilty to each offence but was convicted after a trial in front of magistrates in Warrington.

The court heard Mustapha exposed himself to a woman whom he asked for a cigarette on September 6 on New Road in Latchford, Warrington (left).

As she approached, he removed his penis from his trousers and started to perform a sex act on himself.

The woman "burst out laughing" and told him that both her dogs had a bigger penis than him, causing him to "run away with hurt pride".

She added that if she saw him again she would have "launched him".

Chair magistrate Anthony Graham concluded: "This is a serious matter, and it has passed the custody threshold.

We are going to send you to custody."

Mustapha, of New Road in Latchford, was sentenced to 46 weeks in prison.

He was also ordered to pay £200 in compensation to a man he assaulted and handed four-year restraining orders preventing him from contacting or approaching six named people, or entering Latchford Street.

In addition, Mustapha must abide by sex offender registration and notification requirements for 10 years and was handed a four-year criminal behaviour order. He is also prohibited from contacting any female in an open public space in Warrington.

*PageDear Kelly,

I SNEAKED a peek in my stepsister's diary the other week and found out she has a secret lover.

She doesn't mention him by name in the book, but it's pretty damn clear that it's one of the lads who empties the bins on our estate.

My step-sis has just turned 18 and is a bit of a looker who my all mates fancy, so I don't know why she's hooked up with this fella.

If our dad found out he'd go ape shit – not just because this lad is a binman, but because she's shagging around.

There's this one particular part in her diary where she clearly describes how she sucked his balls while her hand tugged at his cock and he groaned before shooting his load over her tits – which are massive, by the way!

I feel like a bit of a pervert knowing this, but I'm only concerned about our family name and reputation.

Should I tell my dad what I know?

*GY, SomersetKelly says...*NO. It's none of your business.*Dear Kelly,

MY bird works in a pie factory and she's forever bringing home samples for us to enjoy.

I don't mind this, they're really tasty and it's saving us a lot of money which we can spend on other things.

But I suspect she's being serviced by the boss, who lets her have the tasty pastries, as she's recently started coming home from work later and later.

Whenever I bring up the subject, she goes coy and offers me my favourite cheese and onion slice – while she also gets on her knees and gives me a blowie.

What should I do?

*TF, LancsKelly says...*I THINK she likes food too much to be shagging around. Just enjoy her special treats!*Blonde babes next door are offering regular sex*Dear Kelly,

I WAS in my back garden a couple of weeks ago, soaking up some rays, when my new neighbours looked over the fence.

They're a pair of fit blondes in their early twenties who moved in together recently and they asked me round for a few beers and a chat.

They were both wearing tiny bikinis and after we'd had a few they both went topless!

By this time I was up for fking the pair of them and when they started kissing each other's pert boobs I didn't hang around.

I led them inside and invited them to suck my rock-hard cock.

They both took it in turns until I shot my load.

We then went upstairs and I boned one of them from behind while she licked her mate out.

It sounds too good to be true, I'll admit it, but they want to make it a regular thing.

But last week I got a kick in the balls when my money-grabbing landlord said he was going to put my rent up by £50 a week.

I can't really afford it, but I desperately want to keep on shagging them.

What should I do?

*CK, emailKelly says...*FIND the money from somewhere!*AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week KELLY MCGREGOR has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

'Groupie' was actually my sex-mad girlfriend

Dear Kelly,

I'M the lead guitarist in a rock band and I've got a problem with our singer.

I know all about groupies and such like, as we get a fair few of them hanging around after gigs.

Horny babes wait at the back of the venues just begging for a chance to get on our tour bus and get some action.

I'm in a relationship, so I never bother with them, but it never ceases to amaze me how easy it would be to get a bonk after every show we do.

Bucking

Our singer does takes advantage of the situation, getting off with a different babe at every gig.

This is absolutely fine with me, but at one show he told me he'd just boned a groupie BEFORE the gig because he liked her stripy tights.

He then described in detail how it happened – and it was quite a story.

Apparently, she cornered him in the gents, led him into a cubicle, sat him on the loo and sucked his knob until his balls ached.

Then, he said, she unleashed his monster of rock, turned around, pulled her tights down and lowered her wet pussy on to him.

And all the time she was riding him like a bucking bronco, he just sat back and smoked a cigarette.

But the girl wasn't done. She pulled him out of the cubicle and ordered him to take her from behind as she was bent over the toilet sink.

Everyone in the band was laughing about it – and I have to say, the way he told us how he'd been pointing in the mirror at himself while she was bent over the sink had me in stitches as well.

Well, it did until moments later I saw my girlfriend walk backstage – wearing black and white stripy tights!

She got a great big cheer from the rest of the band and now I'm a laughing stock.

I love the girl, but I don't know if I can ever trust her again.

Should I forgive her?
BW, east London

Kelly says...

NO, I don't think you can trust her. She's done it to you once and she'll do it again.

Dear Kelly,

EVER since I can remember, the thought of rubber against my skin has me tingling in the nether regions.

It began when I was a kid, when I found a swimming cap left behind in the changing room at our local pool.

I loved the feel of it and stuffed it in my bag instead of handing it in at reception.

Now I have a big collection of them and I rub myself off on them all the time.

But unfortunately, my obsession with rubber has landed me in trouble.

I told my latest girlfriend, who freaked out and whipped me in the face with a floral number I was trying to get her to wear when I shagged her.

Now I'm all confused and don't know what to do next. Am I a twisted pervert or what?

JJ, Humberside

Kelly says...

NO, but try a fetish website for friends.

Sex toy shocker

Dear Kelly,

I'VE always had a really active sex life but after I married my husband he quickly lost interest.

The other night I dressed up in my French maid's outfit in the hope of getting some action.

I waited for hours so I could surprise him with a kinky shag.

Then he strolled in from the pub, worse for drink, and just wouldn't stop talking about what his daft mates have been up to.

I was so angry that I went upstairs and got down to it with my vibrator and gave myself the best solo seeing-to I could manage.

Next thing I know my pissed hubby is in the room demanding that I suck on his cock while shoving my sex toy up his ARSE!

I did it with pleasure and he seemed to enjoy it more than he should.

Do you think he's a closet gay?
HS, Herts

Kelly says...

A MAN'S G-Spot is hidden up his anus and, when stimulated right, can deliver amazing orgasms. It's not just gay men who gain pleasure from this.

Dear Kelly,

LAST week I went to a lingerie party at a girlie pal's house.

The usual selection of saucy undies and dildos got passed around, with comments such as "That's the size of my fella's" or "That's twice as big as his".

We'd all had a few drinks and the conversation moved on to a debate about whose bloke was the most well-endowed.

I've measured my man's and it is nine inches when erect.

I'm proud to say that he uses it well and expertly fills all my holes with it!

But one gobby girl at the party wanted to bet £100 that her bloke had the biggest.

I can't afford to lose £100, but I could also do with the money.

But is it worth gambling on it?

MB, west Midlands

Kelly says...

IF you can't afford to lose £100, don't risk it. Just enjoy his length!

dixie LOVE

DISHY Dixie Love is used to video-calling gadgets as she's been using tech to flash her bits for ages!

The beauty, from St Albans in Herts, is a big fan of the webcam and often uses it to show what she's got to her army of fans.

The 34C pertlet said: "I love stripping off for the camera and over on my private webcam, things can get a LOT naughtier."

"I don't want to give too much away, as I love teasing my fans."

"I guess you'll just have to log in and come take a look for yourselves - I can tell you now, you will NOT be disappointed...I promise!

#HOT'N'HORNY

TASTY Tina Kay is one of the world's most iconic porn stars, but almost nobody recognised her when she recently visited Stonehenge.

The Lithuanian lovely was in Wiltshire to visit an aunt and made trips to the county's top attractions including Salisbury and Winchester cathedrals and also the famed Neolithic stone circle.

She said: "I've long been fascinated by Stonehenge and it was great to pay it a visit. It's got some kind of ancient aura."

"I had a cap on and apart from a few sly glances from men with their wives, nobody recognised me and I was left alone."

But that all changed when she popped into a pub in Warminster.

She said: "A group of three squaddies recognised me and bought me a drink."

"Naturally, I let them all fk me up the arse in the toilets. My, they were big boys!"

WHERE REAL BABES SNAP THEMSELVES!

THIS is it...the only newspaper feature where REAL BABES show their boobs!

Self-shooting topless pics is a craze that's sweeping the country - but you don't need a swanky new smartphone to enjoy 'em - as we'll be printing the pick of the snaps EVERY week!

SEND US YOUR SELF-SHOTS!
selfshot@sundaysport.co.uk

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

EPIPHANY

ELECTRICIAN Mike Ellery reckons sparks would fly once he put his cable into glamour legend Epiphany's socket!

The 53-year-old, from Hull, loves the Chester cutie's pert pair and can't get enough of her topless pics.

Epiphany is the woman of Mike's dreams and he said he'd love to work on her 30Ds.

He added: "If she booked me for work, I'd definitely be up for overtime."

"She's still so stunning – the things I'd do to Epiphany are unprintable...even for the Sport!"

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

BONNIE SIMON

FISHERMAN Alan Black has a stash of topless babes stored on his boat for his stints at sea, but Bonnie Simon is his all-time favourite.

The 49-year-old regularly casts his net into the North Sea and keeps himself entertained by ogling Sport babes.

Although, he wants a new photo of the 34D beauty from Esher, Surrey, to make his collection complete.

He said: "Those early mornings are a killer but a new pic of Bonnie would make them easier but also a lot harder...if you know what I mean!"

TERESA MAY

GLAMOUR legend Teresa May once left Brian Shepard floored when she turned up at a club in the 90s in her home town of Epsom.

Brian, 49, was left flabbergasted when he saw his favourite Sport girl Teresa, partying hard in his fave club.

And after seeing her in the flesh, he spent the next 25 years collecting pics of her 30G boobs in all their glory.

Brian told us: "She walked into the club with all her mates.

"She did look lovely in the dress she had on, but I bet she looks even hotter without it!"

MUTASAABEQ

Mutasaabeq picks Lockinge for comeback

MUTASAABEQ will bid to break his Group One duck in Saturday's Lockinge Stakes at Newbury, with connections confident his rivals "will have to go some to beat him".

The Charlie Hills-trained five-year-old defied a penalty to beat last year's Irish 2,000 Guineas winner Native Trail in the bet365 Mile, which was switched to Newmarket's Guineas meeting after heavy rain forced Sandown's card to be abandoned.

The Shadwell Estates-owned Mutasaabeq, who registered a fourth win at Rowley Mile course, was one of 16 horses confirmed for the Lockinge on Monday.

Angus Gold, Shadwell's racing manager, believes his victory in the Joel Stakes last September in first-time blinkers showed improvement and the signs are that he will continue to progress.

"He goes to the Lockinge. It was a nice performance last time. It didn't surprise me that he stayed on well, because he looked like he wanted that (a mile) before," said Gold. "Obviously, you don't go into a race like that thinking you are going to beat a Guineas winner necessarily, but I was obviously really pleased with him."

He could take on Ralph Beckett's dual Group One winner Angel Bleu, Sun Chariot runner-up Laurel, Breeders' Cup Mile winner Modern Games and Champion Stakes third My Prospero in what is shaping up to be an excellent renewal.

Gold feels match fitness should benefit the son of Invincible Spirit, adding: "All being well, if he turns up in the same sort of form he was at Newmarket, they will all have to go some to beat him."

"The early signs – and though it is only one run so far – are that his behaviour was much better. He is a much more mature and relaxed horse and he was heading very much the right way the other day.

"The blinkers didn't seem to do him any harm." Inspiral will head straight to Royal Ascot after bypassing the Lockinge.

The Group One-winning filly, trained by John and Thady Gosden, had topped the ante-post market.

However, she was a surprise omission for the feature event at the confirmation stage.

While the Gosdens will instead be represented by Laurel, who is one of 16 possibles for the race won by the brilliant Baaed last season, Inspiral will make a belated four-year-old debut.

Cheveley Park Stud's managing director Chris Richardson explained: "There is no issue with her. Mrs Thompson was adamant that she wanted the filly to go straight to Royal Ascot, as we did last year."

"She looks great, but she is not quite there, is the general feeling. It is like last year, so rather than rush her, we decided to wait."

"It has been cold and miserable and it has just taken time for these fillies to come to themselves."

"We just felt she blossomed in June last year and we didn't really want to rush her, so the Queen Anne will be her likely target."

ALL THE TOP TIPS FOR TODAY'S RACING

INFINITE COSMOS

Ace Cosmos looks out of this world

INFINITE COSMOS can cement her Classic claims with victory in the Tattersalls Musidora Stakes at York.

The Group Three contest has proved a key trial for the Oaks at Epsom over the years, with Aidan O'Brien's Snowfall the last filly to do the double two years ago.

Infinite Cosmos is from a family trainer Sir Michael Stoute knows well as a relative of top-notch performers Hillstar and Crystal Ocean, and the daughter of Sea The Stars has shaped with huge promise in two starts so far.

Improvement

The form of her short-head defeat on her Doncaster debut in the autumn has worked out well, with the winner Sea Of Roses now rated 100 after finishing second in a French Group Three last month.

On the strength of that performance Infinite Cosmos was a warm order to make a successful start to her three-year-old campaign just under two weeks ago and could hardly have been more impressive.

That victory moved her towards the top of the ante-post betting for the Oaks and given she showed signs of inexperience, it is fair to expect improvement on the

WEDNESDAY'S TIPS

Knavesmire. Sea Of Roses is again in opposition, but the suspicion is Infinite Cosmos has more in the locker.

Last year's winner Highfield Princess heads the field for what looks a strong renewal of the 1895 Duke Of York Clipper Stakes, but preference is for the lightly-raced Marshman.

Highfield Princess went on to enjoy a fantastic season following her victory 12 months ago, completing a Group One hat-trick before an honourable fourth placed finish at the Breeders' Cup.

However, she needed a couple of runs before finding her form last term and she faces no easy task in conceding weight to several high-class sprinters on her reappearance.

Marshman, who has won three of his five starts for Karl Burke, is in receipt of 11lb from John Quinn's brilliant mare and only has 6lb to find on official ratings.

He proved he had trained on when dominating from the front in a Group Three at Chantilly last month and unlike Highfield Princess should be cherry-ripe for this assignment.

Real Dream is another potential winner for the Stoute team in the opening Sky Bet Race To The Ebor Jorvik Handicap.

The son of Lope De Vega looks a typical four-year-old improver for the master of Freemason Lodge, having built on promising maiden and novice form from last season when making a successful handicap debut at Kempton a fortnight ago.

It was also his first start since being gelded and undergoing wind surgery and while the winning margin was only a length, he was value for a good bit more.

A 5lb rise looks more than fair on his return to the turf in the hands of Ryan Moore.

Dakota Gold has already won six times at York and the veteran sprinter looks sure to go well again in the Churchill Tyres Handicap, while Caragio catches the eye in the Conundrum HR Consulting Handicap.

Interest

The latter readily accounted for the talented Highbank when opening his account at Leicester in October before finishing a creditable fourth in a heavy ground Horris Hill Stakes at Newbury.

Back on a sounder surface on his return to action, he has to be of major interest moving into the handicap sphere for the first time.

Haatem will take some stopping in the Follow @ starsports bet On Twitter British EBF Restricted Maiden Stakes at Bath.

The Phoenix Of Spain colt came from a long way back to finish third on his introduction at Goodwood and with some normal improvement he should provide Richard Hannon with yet another two-year-old success.

The best bet from three meetings over jumps is Gordon Elliott's Kansas City Chief in the Murrayshall Country Estate Maiden Hurdle at Perth.

While seemingly no star, the six-year-old has shown enough in some decent races in Ireland to suggest a race like this should be well within his compass.

FRENCH DON'T FANCY CUP

Test match rugby league in peril after shock call

TOP WARRIOR: Coach Smith

Warriors have to keep cool

RUGBY UNION

GLASGOW assistant coach Nigel Carolan has urged his side not to be drawn into the "chaos" that European Challenge Cup final opponents Toulon thrive on while still showing ambition and bravery on the ball.

Warriors take on the French side in Dublin on Friday in their first European final.

Glasgow have scored 139 points in three knockout games after going through the pool stage unbeaten home and away against both Bath and Perpignan.

And Carolan is keen for his side to take that form to the Aviva Stadium.

The attack coach said: "They are a team that thrives in chaos, a little bit looser, the French teams tend to be a little bit looser. They rely a little bit more on individuals, they can pull the rabbit out of the hat, and they can punish you if you go off-script and go on your own."

"It's very much about the collective. We have to make sure we are tidy about everything we do and don't get caught up in that loose game. It's inevitable we are going to turn the ball over at some stage, but just that we re-gather and get our shape back again."

"We are very process-driven, we have plans for most parts of our game. It's just about thinking 'what's the next job?' and try to focus on that moment. If you get caught up in what's going on you then you lose focus."

"Order beats chaos but our order isn't exactly conservative. Our order is all about ambition, being brave, having that desire to play from deep and trying things."

"That's exactly what we want in the final, not to go into our shells. We want to be ambitious, we want to play the brand of rugby that has actually got us to this final, and hopefully that will get us on the right side of the scoreline."

Carolan has told the players to relish the build-up.

The Irishman said: "It's hard not to let some of the sideshow get to them. It comes with the territory and I hope the lads relish that as well. They have certainly earned it."

"I expect they will enjoy the hype and the expectation that comes with it."

"It certainly keeps the mind focused on what needs to be done."

INTERNATIONAL rugby league is facing an uncertain future after France announced its decision to withdraw from hosting the 2025 World Cup, citing its inability to meet financial guarantees required by the French government.

The move, which affects the men's, women's and wheelchair tournaments, has left the international game's governing body, the IRL, scrambling to consider other "contingency options" in order to ensure the continuation of the event.

However, those options do not include England, as following up its successful staging of the 2021 tournament last year is seen as unfeasible given the short notice and level of finance required.

IRL chief Troy Grant described the move as "very disappointing", adding: "I respect the French Government's decision amid the challenges they face but I can't hide my disappointment, that I conveyed clearly to them in person."

"Despite our focus having been on France, we will now accelerate our consideration of other contingency options."

The most obvious – and perhaps only remaining – option is to stage the tournament in Australia or New Zealand, although even this would be likely to require a one-year delay for logistical reasons.

RFL chairman Simon Johnson,

RUGBY LEAGUE By JACK FARLEY

who is also an IRL board member, said: "After the success of last autumn's World Cup in England, it is imperative that all in the sport now work with International Rugby League to rebuild the international calendar, for men's, women's and wheelchair rugby."

"We are excited about the prospect of England men hosting Tonga in a three-Test series this autumn, with announcements to follow soon of fixtures for our women's and wheelchair teams, and discussions already advanced regarding another home series in 2024."

Rumours of French financial difficulties surfaced earlier this year, and enthusiasm for seeing through the project was hardly bolstered by last month's double international in Warrington, in which both the French men's and women's teams were beaten 64-0 by England in landslides.

Agonising

The move also comes at an embarrassing time for the sport, whose "strategic partner" IMG has underscored the importance of the international fixture list as a cornerstone of its vision to "reimagine" the sport worldwide.

England are close to confirming a series against Samoa, who inflicted an agonising semi-final defeat at the Emirates Stadium last year, in 2024, but the women's squad have fewer options with only a prospective Test against Wales on the agenda for later in 2023.

And the news will come as a particular blow to the wheelchair game, given France's record of reaching the last three finals, including their narrow defeat to England last year.

WREXHAM WANT TO KEEP BEN

By ANDY MILLOM

WREXHAM are to hold talks with Ben Foster over whether the former England goalkeeper wants to prolong his career with them in the English Football League.

Foster was retired for nine months until he answered a Wrexham SOS in March after regular goalkeeper Rob Lainton was ruled out for the rest of the campaign through injury.

The 40-year-old played the final eight games of the season, saving a stoppage-time penalty in the crunch 3-2 victory over title rivals Notts County, as Wrexham won the National League with a record points total of 111.

"A discussion will take place with Ben Foster to establish if his intention is to return to retirement or continue playing," Wrexham said in a statement announcing their end of season release/retained list.

Foster said last month he could extend his career after Wrexham ended a 15-year absence from the EFL under the ownership of Hollywood stars Ryan Reynolds and Rob McElhenney.

"You have to contemplate it because to be part of Wrexham is a special thing," said Foster, who had a loan spell at the Welsh club in 2005 before going on to play for Manchester United, Watford, Birmingham and West Brom.

"It's nice to be a man of leisure and freedom and I really enjoyed my retirement."

"I had a great time for nine months."

"But everybody who plays here can see that Wrexham is a really special club."

Wrexham have extended Paul Mullin's contract by a further season following promotion. Mullin has scored 76 goals since joining from Cambridge in the summer of 2021, 47 of them coming last season.

Mark Howard and Anthony Forde have also had one-season contract extensions and Liam McAlinden will be offered a new deal.

Wrexham will exercise the option to keep Scott Butler and Aaron James.

Harry Lennon is to retire from playing due to injury, while Reece Hall-Johnson, Jake Hyde and Rory Watson are among other players to be released.

England bowlers on Ashes mission

STOKES AND ANDERSON FIGHT TO GET FIT FOR AUSSIES CLASH

DOUBT:
Stokes

CONCERNS continue over England captain Ben Stokes' fitness to bowl, less than three weeks before the start of the Test summer.

Stokes' long-standing left knee injury flared up during February's tour of New Zealand, after which he spoke of his frustrations at being unable to contribute with the ball and his desperation to be back at full capacity in time of the Ashes in June.

But his time with Chennai Super Kings in the Indian Premier League has proved difficult, playing just twice for the franchise and sending down a solitary over at the cost of 18 runs.

Light

The 31-year-old subsequently picked up a toe problem and a further unspecified "setback" before being kept on the sidelines once available again.

It has cast a shadow over his bowling this summer.

CSK have preferred another English all-rounder, Moeen Ali, in one of their overseas slots, partly due to pitches suiting his off-spin better, but head coach Stephen

CRICKET By WES DERBY

Fleming has shed further light on the matter.

The New Zealander suggested Stokes' seamers were not currently an option and that he was instead being viewed as a specialist batter ahead of the final group stage match.

"But with Moeen bowling well in good conditions – we go to Delhi [next] which has been turning – we think the balance of the side has been right.

"We're second on the table, so it's not our style to chop and change just because we've had a loss where things didn't go our way."

Responding to worries over Stokes' IPL trip at the end of the drawn series in New Zealand, England's head coach Brendon McCullum – a former CSK player – said: "The Chennai set-up is excellent in looking after their players and they've a very good medical team.

"He will be well looked after. I've no concerns that the skipper will be totally looked after."

Stokes is expected to fly back to England next weekend in preparation for the stand-alone Lord's Test against Ireland, starting on June 1, but it appears unclear if he will risk himself as part of the attack.

The first Ashes Test at Edgbaston follows on June 16.

"Ben's ability to bowl overs at the moment is still a bit of a challenge, but he's there as that batting cover," said Fleming.

There are already a number of headaches among England's seam ranks, with James Anderson withdrawing from Lancashire's game against Somerset after picking up a groin complaint on day one, Jofra Archer departing the IPL with discomfort in his troublesome elbow and Olly Stone suffering a hamstring injury on duty for Nottinghamshire.

Anderson has sustained a "mild strain to his right groin", with just over a month to go until the start of the Ashes.

The 40-year-old paceman left the field on Thursday – the opening day of Lancashire's county match against Somerset – just before the close of play and took no further part due to what was described at the time as a "minor issue".

Anderson had a scan and a statement from the England and Wales Cricket Board shed further light on the situation.

"Lancashire and England seamer James Anderson has sustained a mild strain to his right groin during Lancashire's County Championship match against Somerset at Emirates Old Trafford," it read.

"Anderson suffered the injury on day one on Thursday whilst bowling and stayed off the field for the remainder of the match, which ended in a draw.

"His fitness will be assessed nearer the time of the Test match against Ireland, which takes place at Lord's on Thursday 1 June."

Anderson had played a starring role at Old Trafford before exiting proceedings, in what was his fourth consecutive four-day game for the Red Rose and his final match before the sole Test against Ireland.

Positive

He gave notice of his readiness for England duty with a brilliant eight-over opening spell, during which he bowled five maidens, was hit for five runs and claimed two wickets.

Lancashire head coach Glen Chapple said: "Jimmy bowled really well in the first innings. He's just irritated his groin. I don't think it's anything too serious.

"We should be positive about his recovery, but obviously he had done it badly enough not to take any part in the game today.

"It just seems like a tweaked groin to me."

IWOBI WANTS THE JOY OF SIX

EVERTON midfielder Alex Iwobi insists the players are targeting victories in their final two games to secure their Premier League status.

Defeat at home to champions-elect Manchester City was not unexpected, even after the vital, morale-boosting win at Brighton six days previously, and has not really changed the equation for Sean Dyche's side.

One win could possibly be enough to extend their top-flight stay into a 70th season but beating both Wolves away and Bournemouth at Goodison Park would almost certainly do that.

A year ago the Toffees safeguarded their future in their penultimate fixture, the final homegame against Crystal Palace, but with things so tight at the bottom it is likely the outcome of one or both remaining relegation places will go to the final day.

Which is why a maximum haul for Everton will be crucial.

"We can't be too down but there is a saying in football that you can't be too high, like against Brighton, and then too low about City. We just need to kick on and go again," said Iwobi.

"The mindset is to have the belief that we can stay up and get maximum points – get six points.

"We have to prepare, analyse

By PAUL THOMAS

and see Wolves' weaknesses and how we capitalise against them."

Despite the City defeat the fans who remained behind at a rapidly-emptying Goodison Park were keen to voice their support for the players.

Iwobi accepts that will be crucial for the final day of the season against a Bournemouth side who are already safe but said it was an important boost for the squad heading to Molineux before that, especially in a campaign which has been fractious between fans and the club.

"To have the fans having our back after a disappointing result shows how much the fans care and want us to do well," he added.

Worrying

"We use that as motivation to go into the next game. If they can fight for us, it is only right that we can fight for them as well."

Right-back Nathan Patterson is still trying to find his feet in the side having struggled with fitness and it has been difficult for him coming into an under-performing side, starting the last two due to an injury to Seamus Coleman.

But having been given his chance he is focused on the fight for survival rather than worrying too much about his own personal difficulties.

"You always have to be ready any time you are called upon and I feel I've done that in the last couple of games," he said.

"We are making sure we are focused on the things we do and as long as we do our job and do our best I'm sure we will be fine.

"All season we've concentrated on ourselves, trying to not look at the table and anyone around us.

"We just have to make sure we are focused and everyone is on the right page."

TITLE'S GONE ADMITS ODEGAARD

ARSENAL captain Martin Odegaard admits they must learn from Sunday's crushing 3-0 defeat at home to Brighton.

The Gunners' faint title hopes went up in smoke after second-half goals from Julio Enciso, Deniz Undav and Peris Estupinan earned the visitors a stunning victory at the Emirates.

Premier League leaders Manchester City now need only one more win from their final three games to clinch the title but they could be crowned champions without playing if Arsenal lose at Nottingham Forest on Saturday.

City won 3-0 at Everton before the Gunners' clash with Brighton and despite a strong first-half showing, Mikel Arteta's side folded with the Seagulls going in front in the 51st minute through Enciso before they picked off the hosts with late goals from Undav and Estupinan.

Asked if mentality was an issue, Odegaard insisted: "No, I don't think so.

"I felt like we were good going into the game but yeah, in the game, it was a different story.

"We have to accept that and learn from it. In the first half we did a lot of good things and we had some moments where we could create some big chances and maybe score a goal or two.

"Then in the second half we gave them more and more momentum. They are dangerous when they go direct and especially on our right side, they attacked us there a bit too easy in behind but it is hard to say at the moment. A lot of things we could do better."

While Arsenal boss Arteta did not admit defeat in the title race, Odegaard conceded their hopes were probably over.

City's success at Goodison Park made it 11 Premier League wins in a row and the championship is expected to be decided this coming weekend.

Odegaard said: "Yeah, it feels like that (the title is over). I think it is going to be very difficult now. We have to be honest, so it is tough to take.

"It is not a good feeling at the moment. The way we played, especially in the second half, I don't know what happened to be honest but big, big disappointment.

"Yeah, it feels like there is no hope now."

Roberto De Zerbi wheeled off down the touchline after Undav's 86th-minute lob before he dropped to his knees in celebration after Estupinan wrapped up the scoring.

The Italian played down comparisons with Jose Mourinho, who did similar during his time at Porto in a match against Manchester United in 2004, but admitted the sky is the limit for him and his team.

"Jose Mourinho is a great manager but I have this character, this passion," De Zerbi stated.

DOUBT: Antonio

Hammers sweat on Antonio

WEST Ham are sweating on the fitness of Michail Antonio ahead of Thursday's Europa Conference League semi-final second leg at AZ Alkmaar.

Antonio's strike secured a 2-1 win for the Hammers in the first leg at the London Stadium, but the forward missed Sunday's 2-0 Premier League defeat at Brentford with a calf problem.

Boss David Moyes made nine changes against the Bees, West Ham's 53rd match of the season, with the hectic schedule beginning to catch up with his players.

With Gianluca Scamacca injured and Danny Ings struggling for goals, Antonio would be a huge miss as the Hammers bid to reach a first European final in 47 years.

"I've no idea yet how he is going to be for Thursday," said gaffer Moyes.

"I could put them out and then continue to get more injuries, because we've had a relentless season of games which has been really really difficult to cope with.

"I made nine changes because of the fatigue and because we had beaten Manchester United and we had beaten Alkmaar.

"If I'm being honest, if I'm going to keep flogging the same players all the time then I'm going to break them and that's wrong.

"We had an injury to Michail because he's been putting in the miles in the games and I just don't want it to be anybody else. That was the risk.

"We'll now go into the semi-final, I'll dust myself down, get myself back on it and we'll go in there hoping to reach the final."

Goals from Bryan Mbeumo and Yoane Wissa gave Thomas Frank his 100th win as Brentford boss.

It was all the more impressive given the Bees were without 20-goal frontman Ivan Toney.

"It's a hamstring injury," said Frank.

"We'll assess him during the week and, hopefully, he's going to be available for Tottenham next weekend.

"That's what we're working towards.

"I would obviously like Ivan in the team, but you need other players that can step in and Wissa, again, stepped in and scored. Fantastic."

BUZZING PEP HAS A DREAM

Man City gaffer can't wait to get stuck into the biggest week of club's history

PEP Guardiola says a week in which Manchester City can reach the Champions League final and win the Premier League again is a "dream come true".

Arsenal's 3-0 defeat at home to Brighton following City's victory by the same scoreline at Everton means Guardiola's side can clinch a fifth title in six seasons next weekend.

But before that City will have to get past holders Real Madrid in a home semi-final second leg to maintain their quest for a first Champions League triumph, with the tie level at 1-1.

"It is a dream come true being here, honestly," said Guardiola, whose side also have an FA Cup final against Manchester United to look forward to next month.

"I know at the end we maybe don't get all the trophies, people say we are a not good team, a 'failure' team, but it is a dream come true being here.

"We are the only team in Europe fighting for all the competitions: the FA Cup final with Manchester United and still it is not over, the Premier League never ends, we know that from past with Liverpool.

"We have the semi-final at home with our people, second leg trying to reach the final of the Champions League. Where we have come from previous seasons is an extraordinary season and hopefully we can finish well."

City, who are currently on an 11-match winning run in the league as part of a 22-game unbeaten streak in all competitions, can guarantee the Premier League title with victory at home to Chelsea next Sunday.

But they will be confirmed as champions even sooner if Arsenal are defeated at relegation-battling Nottingham Forest on Saturday evening.

Guardiola is taking nothing for granted but knows the win at Everton, after their draw in the Bernabeu, was key in keeping the Gunners out of reach.

Impressed

Everton went into the game on the back of an impressive 5-1 win at high-flying Brighton but a brace from Ilkay Gundogan either side of Erling Haaland's 36th league goal of the season secured the points for City at Goodison Park.

"When I see Chelsea and Brighton (City's next two matches) we have a lot of work to do," Guardiola added. "But this one (Everton) away was a tricky one."

"I was really impressed by the way Everton handled the game against Brighton but from the first minute we controlled the game, except certain transitions. They are the best in the Premier League from every free-kick and corner since Sean Dyche went in there, it is almost a goal every time. Arsenal lost here for one corner, so it happens.

"We had the patience and momentum and movements from Riyad (Mahrez) and Phil (Foden) was really good in behind. We scored the goals in the right moment.

"It was so important and nice to celebrate with our fans away because they are always with us."

Guardiola was unhappy with Everton defender Yerry Mina for what he implied were underhand and unsporting tactics during their 3-0 win at Goodison Park.

The Colombia international was involved in one visible incident with Aymeric Laporte at a corner in the first half in which the City centre-back slapped his opponent in the stomach following an altercation and Mina fell to the floor.

But at the final whistle Guardiola

ON VERGE OF HISTORY: Guardiola and star striker Haaland confronted the Everton defender and remonstrated with him as he followed him off the pitch. All City's players also refused to shake Mina's hand.

While Guardiola refused to say what Mina had done, his unhappiness appeared to centre on the Colombian's handling of opponents.

"Mina? It's not necessary what he does. Away from the football, it is not necessary to do what he does every single game," said Guardiola.

Mental

"And I told him, 'You are a good enough player to avoid these kind of things'."

Asked to elaborate on his complaints, the City boss added: "He knows. Ask him. This is not physical, this is not mental."

"There are things that are not necessary to do that he does. This time with Aymeric, Jack Grealish, everybody. Ask him. Invite him to the press conference."

Guardiola also paid tribute to Ilkay Gundogan. He is out of contract in the summer and has been linked with a move to Barcelona, but Guardiola is more than happy for him to captain the side, as he did at Goodison where he led from the front with two superbly-taken goals.

"He can show again and again and again the quality and importance and his commitment, to all of us, to the club, not just scoring goals, now he has his momentum," said Guardiola, who wants the Germany international to extend his stay.

"He doesn't talk much, but when he talks everyone listens and this is the power of the leader. He shows his leadership in every training session — arriving on time, living 24 hours your job and play like he is playing."

"He is a player that when he gets close to the box he has an incredible sense of goal. He can play as a holding midfielder no problem."

"You think you need a physical player, but he is so clever and he is a guy who handles the pressure well."

TILLMAN 50-50 TO STAY AT GERS

MALIK Tillman rates the prospect of him joining Rangers in a permanent transfer as "50-50".

The Bayern Munich midfielder's season-long loan at Ibrox was recently cut short by a hamstring injury and he returned to Germany.

But the United States international was back in Glasgow on Sunday to collect the PFA Scotland Men's Young Player of the Year award.

The 20-year-old said: "I hoped for a better ending but it's quite common in football to get injuries so I am unlucky to be one of them. I have had a great time here. It might not be the end - we will see what's going to happen in the summer."

"It's 50-50. It's up to Rangers, up to Bayern and up to me, so it's completely open."

"I am going to speak to Michael Beale in the coming days and then see what he is saying."

ALEXIS KOP KO

Mac wants Champions League club

ALEXIS MacAllister looks set to snub a £70m move to Liverpool this summer - because he wants a Champions League club.

The Argentina midfielder has been linked with a switch from Brighton to Anfield.

But the 24-year-old World Cup

By JOHN ANTHONY

winner is not interested in playing Europa League football.

As it stands, Liverpool will not finish in the top four unless either Manchester United or Newcastle slip up.

With games running out, that doesn't look likely to happen - and it would scupper a Kop deal for MacAllister.

That could open the door for Manchester United with boss Erik Ten Hag looking to bolster his midfield.

Brighton want to keep MacAllister but there is thought to be a clause in his contract to all him to leave at the end of this season. Clubs in Spain are also ready to enter the hunt.
